I have installed Pi and the software on Windows 7 and its fine, but when I installed it on my Windows 8.1 laptop, I immediately run into an issue. I am stuck at Pi giving the following error message: Microsoft Picture it! Studio Photo 7.0 has stopped working, and needs to be repaired. I have tried repairing the program, but get the same error. And I am not sure where to go from here. Is there any way I can fix my Pi? It seems like the Pi Software I have is not compatible with the Windows 8.1 OS. Help please! A: Okay, I figured out how to get it to work: Shutdown Pi Open the installation file of Pi (pi.exe in the folder) Start Pi The error message is gone. And the software seems to work fine. A: It was a new installation so I opened the installation file and entered just like you did and I got it to work. Combination effects of ophthalmic tetracaine and levobupivacaine: an experimental study. Levobupivacaine is a long-acting carboxyl-substituted amino acid amide with a long elimination half-life (80 to 100 minutes). Tetracaine is a local anaesthetic with high penetration and efficacy (duration of action is 0.5 to 1 hour). The purpose of this study was to examine the effects of combinations of levobupivacaine (0.5% solution) and tetracaine (0.5% solution) on pupillary reflexes, intraocular pressure, and heart rate in albino rabbit eyes (n = 18). Pupils of the rabbits were dilated with a combination of 1% phenylephrine and 2% tropicamide. Both solutions were applied to each eye at 2 separate time points (15 minutes interval). The results showed that the peak effect of the two drugs was obtained at the same time (30 minutes). The peak pupillary reflex in the combination group was significantly higher than in the group receiving levobupivacaine alone. Although there was an increase in the intraocular pressure in the combination group, the increase was not significantly different from the control group. The dose of tetracaine required to induce mydriasis was significantly lower than the levobupivacaine dose. Combined use of levobupivacaine and tetracaine
